Resources that last for an entire career

Celebrating nearly a decade.

In reflecting on the past 10 years, we extend our gratitude to the tens of thousands of people worldwide who have visited the DTUI website to learn about our approach to diversity education. We are also grateful to those who bought our products and utilized our services over the years. You made it possible for us to establish DTUI as a global resource for diversity professionals. Our successes have been accompanied by challenges that require keeping pace with change and our audience's needs. We have introduced new products and services, such as Strategic Diversity & Inclusion Management magazine, the Diversity Leadership Symposium, and the self-paced certificate program in response to new demands. We invite you to partner with us as the diversity business enters into a new more promising phase.

DTUI Diversity Professional Certificate Program is Here!

You can pay as much as $4200.00 to complete the DTUI diversity professional certification program in face-to-face format. That does not include travel costs. Many of you find the costs prohibitive and desire a more cost-effective alternative. Well, the wait is over.

DTUI now offers a self-paced certificate-of-completion program by popular demand.

Our Success is Your Success.

DTUI has been certifying diversity professionals for ten years. Participants steadily give us off-the-chart high ratings for delivery, content, and how much they learn. We have also successfully produced and sold a truck load of professional manuals and toolkits. Finally, we have a history of offering diversity consulting and leadership programs at a distance.
